The low backrest doesn't overwhelm the space, allowing room for decorative elements behind it. The armrests provide the perfect support point, as they are designed with optimal width and height dimensions in mind.

MODULAR SOFA

Denver sofa consists of 10 modular sections connected with special fasteners, allowing you to choose a configuration that suits your individual needs: straight, corner, or U-shaped. A highlight of the sofa is a special module where the front panel extends to form a tabletop with a wooden surface. With it, all your essentials are always within reach.

MODULAR SOFA

The sofa's frame is supported by metal legs, 120 mm in height, perfectly balancing the structure while giving a sense of lightness.

The "Eurobook" folding system with a step mechanism effortlessly transforms the Denver into a comfortable sleeping space.

A modern, light-colored modular sofa is shown in a dark, minimalist interior. The sofa is composed of several sections, including a large L-shaped part and a smaller armchair-like section. It has a clean, contemporary design with thick cushions and dark, thin legs. A large potted plant with broad leaves is visible in the background to the right. The overall atmosphere is sophisticated and modern.
