

PARMA BED

FRANKOF

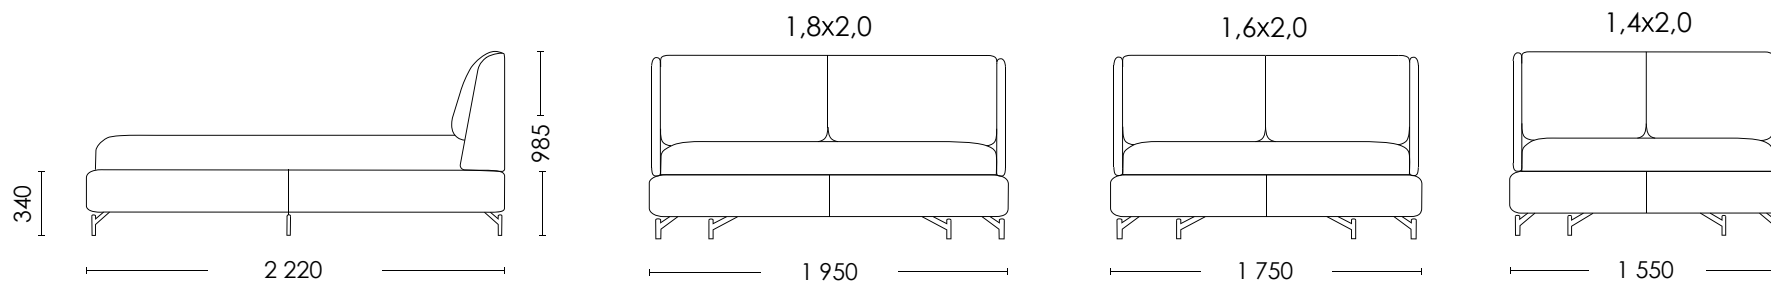

Introducing the Parma bed, where the most sought-after features come together in perfect harmony: compact dimensions, high legs, and a convenient lift-up storage mechanism.

The headboard consists of two independent soft cushions that create the model's distinctive silhouette. The cushions are attached to the headboard with hook-and-loop fastening, allowing them to be easily removed when needed and providing access to the solid headboard base. This solution makes it easy to maintain cleanliness in the headboard area.

The Parma stands on elegant high metal legs, giving the interior a light, airy appearance without overwhelming the space.

Completing the thoughtful design is a lift-up mechanism that provides easy access to a spacious storage compartment, ideal for bedding, seasonal items, and everyday essentials.

The Parma bed is built using high-quality, durable materials, including solid softwood timber, E1-grade particleboard, HDF, and fibreboard, ensuring a strong and reliable frame. For enhanced comfort, the upholstery incorporates polyurethane foam (PU foam), while plywood accounts for 20% of the overall construction, adding extra durability and stability.

The mattress is supported by a sturdy slatted base, which enhances its orthopedic performance while promoting continuous air circulation.

If preferred, the Parma is also available without the lift-up mechanism. In this version, the mattress rests on a particleboard base equipped with specially designed ventilation openings to ensure proper airflow.

The Parmabed combines clean, contemporary design with practical features, offering lasting comfort for everyday living.
